

Review

and, but, or

Grammar: ✦ "Special" Conjunctions

He packed his bags, and he left for the airport.

- He packed his bags and left for the airport.

She loves cats, but she hates dogs.

- She loves cats but hates dogs.

Will you go to Chonburi, or will you go to Chiangmai?

- Will you go to Chonburi or Chiangmai?.

Exercise: shorten the sentences

My teacher is kind, but he is strict. = _____

Should I turn left or should I turn right at the next intersection? = _____ either _____ or _____

Grammar: ✦ Correlative Conjunctions

We have two options: go hiking or explore the local village.

_____.

You can eat out at a restaurant. You can cook dinner yourself.

_____.

Exercise: rewrite the sentences using 'either...or...'

You can buy this book online.
You can buy this book at the bookstore.

=

He will choose the blue shirt.
He will choose the red shirt.

=

Test: rewrite the sentences using 'either...or...'

The package will arrive today.
The package will arrive tomorrow.

=

She may take the job offer.
She may continue searching for other opportunities.

=

You must pay for the goods.
You must return them.

=

She can choose the chocolate cake.
She can choose the Tiramisu.

=

You can go to the movies.
You can stay home and watch TV.

=

I will buy a new car with the money.
I will go on vacation with the money.

=

You can walk to the park.
You can take the bus to the park.

=

My dad will come with me on Monday, or my mom will come with me on Monday.

=

If you apologize, they will forgive you.
But if you don't, be prepared to face the consequences.

=
