

Review

The man who called yesterday wants to buy this house.

The man who(m) I called yesterday wants to buy this house.

There was a two-year guarantee which came with the TV.

Grammar: * Relative Clause with 'who', 'whom', and 'which'

The man wants to buy this house. + He called yesterday.

The man wants to buy this house. + I called him yesterday.

There was a two-year guarantee. + It came with the TV.

4 steps

1.

2.

3.

4.

Exercise: combine these two sentences using 'who', 'who(m)', or 'which'.

1. The assistant was really kind. + She helped us in today's meeting.

2. The assistant was really kind. + We met her in today's meeting.

3. The movie was awful. + We saw it last week.

4. That's the information. + We need it.

5. The flight was cancelled. + We were going to take it.

6. The person was really helpful. + They spoke to him.

7. They ate at a restaurant. + It serves only vegan dishes.

8. Where's the phone? + You borrowed it from Penny.

9. The building is very old. + She lives in it.

10. These are the earrings. + My mother gave them to me.

11. The people are very nice. + I used to work with them.

12. This is the shirt. + I bought it from Jane's shop.

The man that called yesterday wants to buy this house.

The man that I called yesterday wants to buy this house.

There was a two-year guarantee that came with the TV.

Grammar: * Relative Clause with 'that'

The man wants to buy this house. + He called yesterday.

The man wants to buy this house. + I called him yesterday.

There was a two-year guarantee. + It came with the TV.
